DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-11 are pending in this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Choy et al. (US 6,324,505).

As per claim 1, Choy teaches, “a frequency domain interpolative CODEC system for low bit rate coding of speech”, comprising:

“a linear prediction (LP) front end adapted to process an input signal providing LP parameters which are quantized and encoded over predetermined intervals and used to compute a LP residual signal” (col. 7, line 60 to col. 8, line 27);

“an open loop pitch estimator adapted to process said LP residual signal, a pitch quantizer, and a pitch interpolator and provide a pitch contour within the predetermined intervals” (col. 7, line 60 to col. 8, line 27); and provide a voicing measure, said voicing measure characterizing a degree of voicing of said input speech signal and is derived from several input parameters that are correlated to degrees of periodicity of the signal over the predetermined intervals" (col. 8, line 65 to col. 9, line 14);

“a signal processor responsive to said LP residual signal and the pitch contour and adapted to perform the following:

"extract a prototype waveform (PW) from the LP residual and the open loop pitch contour for a number of equal sub-intervals within the predetermined intervals" (col. 10, lines 25-32);

"normalize the PW by said PW's gain" (col. 10, line 45 to col. 11, line 29); and

"directly quantize the PW in a magnitude domain without further decomposition of said PW into complex components, said direct quantization being performed by a hierarchical quantization method based on a voicing classification using fixed dimension vector quantizers (VQ's)" (col. 12, line 46 to col. 14, line 30).

As per claim 2, Choy teaches, "wherein said predetermined interval comprises a frame" (col. 10, lines 25-32, details describe in pat 5,884,253).

As per claim 3, Choy teaches, "wherein said frame is preferably 20 ms" (col. 10, lines 25-32, details describe in pat 5,884,253).

As per claim 4, Choy teaches, "wherein said extraction of said PW sub-frame is preferably performed every 2.5 ms" (col. 10, lines 25-32, details describe in pat 5,884,253).

As per claim 5, Choy teaches, "a hierarchical mean-deviation vector quantization of a variable dimension PW magnitude vector is performed using fixed dimension VQ's" (Abstract).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 6-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
